Dear Student,

You are registered for course # 3702-329, "Social Media Training: Making Connections" with Bryan Welfel, Mary Ann Brussat, Chase Evans, and Stefan Day on August 13-15, 2010.

Faculty has asked us to share the following note with you:

Thank you for your interest in Social Media Training: Making Connections. We look forward to working with you.

If you have never attempted to use Facebook, Twitter, or a Wordpress blog, we're going to get you started. If you already have accounts, we are going to help you use them more productively.

To participate fully in this workshop, you will need to bring a laptop with the most recent version of your favorite web browser (Internet Explorer, Firefox, etc.). Also, your laptop needs to be enabled to use wireless Internet. Please bring a power cord for the laptop to keep it plugged in during the workshop or to recharge the battery between workshop sessions.

Please bring an idea (and name) for a blog you want to create during the workshop, and some information about the blog and yourself to post when your account is created. Be sure to also have information about yourself for your Facebook and Twitter accounts, too. This information should include your name and a short bio sketch about who are—your background and interests, etc. All this information should be in a word processing program on your computer, such as Word. You will be copying this information and pasting it into your online accounts.

You may also want to have a supply of digital photos and/or digital videos ready that you might want to share online and use to represent yourself.

Thank you.

We look forward to seeing you this season!

Sincerely,
The Omega Staff
